TRADE.

Our quotations show but little change in the general markets to-day, and busi- C. P. NORRIS, ness did not seem as active as it usually is on Tuesday, when our local packets go out in larger numbers than upon any other day of the week. A change in the weather will no doubt improve matters very materially.

Boston have been so large, lately, that trains have been made up on the Boston this class of freight, the same train conveying goods destined to different points west from Albany, N. Y., to Salt Lake City, and stations on the line of the Pacific Rallway.

Of the trade in this line of goods, the Reporter says, the demand continues good from the distant trade, and buyers are still quite numerous from all parts of the country. Prices are firm and steady for the most part, but for hand-made Cement, Plaster, Hair & Fire Brick work the tendency is to gradually advance as the demand presses. By the first of April many of the hands employed on slippers and thin-soled shoes will be seeking out-door work, unless larger wages are offered them on this class of shoes, in which case higher prices must prevail. With indications of an early spring, the near-by trade are moving to secure their stocks, which, with the large demand from the South and West, is giving manufacturers a full supply of orders, and for once there are but few desirable goods seeking a market. The demand for cartage by the shoe and leather trade of this city was never more active than during the past week, and Lowell, on Saturday every available means of transportation was called into requisition in conveying merchandise for the shoe and leather trade to the several points of shipment. During the last few days, Pearl and the adjacent streets have preready dispatched this year, the spring TOOMESS, Lagrange, Tenn., who are author an early date. A brief aliusion to the origin of this important discovery may not prove uninteresting. Among the authoritisted records of the reward taptain Cook's voyage around the world, is found the statement, that while so-journing for a short time on the Brazilian Coast of South America, he observed the matives using, in the preparation of their food, a peculiar oil, which, upon exhibitation, he tound to possess the appearance, taste and flavor of Butter; upon further longity, however, he ascertained that it was simply a substance that the natives distilled in a crude and imperfect manner from a rich and luxuriant plant that grew spontaneously and abundantly in that warm trooless country. A few years ago an eminent French chamist, while on a professional visit to the troples, made numerous experiments with this remarkable production of nature, and successfed in extracting a concentrated escence of the plant.
